COST WOMEN $1,000.

Sixteen Stole Her Valuables and Fled.

SPIRIT MESSAGES

the centre of the vaults." Considine whispered, shifting the stream of light

"There!" exclaimed the Squire, point-

You're sure that's the right one?"

Yes. I recognize the prison make."

The play upon which this romance is founded is now running successfully at the Academy of Music, with Andrew Mack as the dashing hero, Jack ures appeared.

performed by a pressi who is also Armstrong and a company of directions house for the funtives.

It is captured. To save his from gives himself up. Blake is put in it substituted for a dead hofy and in a coffin. The progress of the coff.

Considing North and old South Dr. (Considing North and old South Dr.)

opyright, 1900, by the Press Publishing Com-

CHAPTER VI. HO is in that coffin?" repeated

"It's O'Mahon," retorted the jailer, who had a grudge of his own against the captain and was not minded an hour before and had gone away.

Midnight was chiming from the beifry o go from her Morganfield, Ill., home of her aunt there, Mrs. Applegate, Mrs. o St. Louis and open a boarding-house. Hamber says that the young stri assect. They also told Mrs. Hamner to call temper in beating the sixteen-year-old so impressed that she followed the $1,000 worth of jewelry and other valuables, Mrs. Lily Hamner, of 3152 Locast Then Bessie received a "spirit" message has been called to Morganfield, for her "aunt." It rend; Ill., to answer charges of arsault. Mrs. "Go at once to Morganfield. There are worth, a medium of sweet sixteen, all not one trunk containing lewelry worked the undoing of Mrs. Hamner, a and silverware to her spiritualistic com-

which has inspired the application of the Sie found her presen

$1,000 worth of jewels, solid silverware return to Morganfield. While Mrs. Ham-and silk attire, as the sequel of her sil- ner was absent from the house one day, more than two months ago that she for the elegant present which the spirits was a medium of wondrous powers. had made in sending to her a trunk u She interested the widow. Bessie ar-

and confronted Bessie. In the presence

BRIDEGROOM MUST PROVE HIS BLOOD

Albert Faxon's Right to Marry a White Woman Ouestioned Under Indiana Law.

can prove that he has no negro blood other than a genure white man, in his veins the authorities of that place tracted much attention. will not allow him to live with the woman whom he has just married.

was a widow fifty-three years old, with Marshal Carr placed Faxon under ara farm of 150 acres, and drawing a pen- rost, sion of $12.50 a month. She also had The bride was much distressed over farm laborer. Their friendship ripened Faxon was given a preliminary hear-into love, and on last Wednesday Faxon ing and was placed under $500 bonds to made affidavit that Faxor had less than blood, one-eighth negro blood. After this the The woman's friends are trying were married by a clergyman.

oing to Greenville, O., and other points, old. going to Greenville. O. and the sight life will not be permitted Both were well attred, and the sight life will not be permitted.

Until Albert Faxon, of Portland, Ind., youthful looking husband, who appeared from he has just married.

and on an affidavit by Corwin Alexbride, Mrs. Samantha Vincent, ander, a son-in-law of the woman, City some other property, and she made a good living for herself. Her children all adults, are settled in life.

Mrs. Vincent employed Faxon as a nade application to the County Clerk await action of the Grand Jury. During for a license to wed Mrs. Vincent.

His eligibility to marry a white woman turbed. Friends of Faxon claim that was questioned, and Alf Smith, a friend, he has really less than one-eighth negro therk issued the license, and the couple every possible way to separate the were married by a clergyman. couple, but so far have been unsuccess. They then left on a honeymoon trip, ful. Mr. Paxon is but twenty-two years

CHURCH NOTES.

thanned ter coat and says she is much happier as the wife of Waiter D. Achuff Rigid rules prevented the members from then when she was a man-mater. accepting the escort of men to its meet-she has broken every rule of the club except to pay a fine, despite the tearful Waiter D. Achuff was the lucky man

Mrs. Hamner Says Sweet Girl Medium of Mrs. Walter D. Achuff Says She Is Happier Now

Formally it was called the Mozart and founder of the "Old Maids" " Club, has Dickens Society. turned her coat and says she is much initiated called it the Old Maids' Club.

FOUNDER OF OLD MAIDS' CLUB

Than When She Was a Man-Hater.

IS NOW A PRETTY BRIDE.

MRS WALTER D.

GONE WITH SISTER'S HUSBAND AGAIN.

No Attempt Will Be Made to Recapture Miss Packard and Wife Will Get Divorce.

empt has or will be made to pursue ter to him in which she stated that Wilkinson and his sister-in- everything between them was at an end.

is supposed to have cloped a few days torney, whom she requested to publish ago, after they had been arrested at it so that her friends and the people of Atlanta, Ga., during their first flight, it Dover might know that she regretted a supposed that they have gone West. what she had done." Mrs. Wilkinson, the deserted wife, it There is scarcely a doubt that Wilkinexpected, will at once take steps to son had given up his infatuation for his secure a divorce. She does not, how-stater's wife after their first escapade ever, express any regret that her hus- until she saw him and talked the mat-

The property of these is not till at 10 or 10 to 8 decks." We Property of the second of the property of th meek to influence her future course," said hotel. Wilkinson's surprise at seeing hars. Packard. "We have done all that her was apparently unfeigned. The we could for her. Her father and her sister, whose husband she has fled with, sacrificed everything for her, but they will do no more. I acted against my better judgment aff the time, as I was convinced that Josephine was merely shamming repentance when she professed to be sorry for her first escapade.

Atlanta.

believed that she is gigd to be rid of In the conversation with Landlord Powers, of the Imperial Hotel, where he stopped before his second elopement.

Annie Martin, of Merritt, Ky., and the

It is upon Mrs. Packard and her hus-band, the parents of the deserted wife Wilkinson complained that Miss Pack-way, and her father and myself will not Miss Packard called to see him at the seek to influence her future course," said hotel. Wilkinson's surprise at seeing thants.

The last seen of the eloping couple leves that she hotde the winning they were on their way to New York on Roading Terminal train. Wilkinson as well supplied with money secured as well supplied with money secured the sale of his drug store in this city.

BABY HELD. Annie Marshall Kept in a Hospital Because a $250 Bill Is Unpaid.

MOTHER AND

that city, after making an investigation, have decided they can do nothing. Dr. Anna Florien, who conducts the to leave her place until the bill of $350 woman who made the complaint at po-

N. B.-Please Be Early with Want Ad. Copy for To-Morrow's Sunday World.

The releasing organized febrow Actors the street and Rockerch Rran. dearman of the Reception Committee.

Well-to-Do Farmer Held for Murcler Fourteen Held for Murcler Fourteen